These Auditing Standards require that we comply with relevant ethical requirements relating to audit engagements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance whether the financial report is free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial report. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial report, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial report in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing

In the current year, the Company has adopted all of the new and revised Standards and Interpretations issued by the Australian Accounting Standards Board (the AASB) that are relevant to its operations and effective for the current annual reporting period.

The following standards and interpretations relevant to the company became effective in 2010:

AASB 3 'Business Combinations';

- AASB 127 'Consolidated and Separate Financial Statements' (revised) and AASB 101 'Presentation of Financial Statements' The amendments affect the presentation of owner changes in equity and of comprehensive income. The changes do not impact recognition, measurement or disclosure of specific transactions and events required by other standards;

Adoption of these amended standards and interpretations did not have a significant impact on the balance sheet or the results of operations except as otherwise stated.

Accounting standards & interpretations issued but not yet adopted

The Company has reviewed all accounting Standards and Interpretations that have been issued and not yet adopted.

At the date of authorisation of the financial report, the following Standards and Interpretations issued but not yet effective are considered relevant to the preparation of the financial statements of the company. All other Standards and Interpretations are not considered relevant.

Standard	Effective for annual reporting periods beginning on or after	Expected to be initially applied in the financial year ending
AASB 2009-5 'Further amendments to Australian Accounting Standards arising from the Annual Improvements Project' . Further non-urgent amendments to several accounting standards arising from the annual improvements project.	1 January 2010	30 June 2011
AASB 124 'Related Party Disclosures' AASB 2009-12 'Amendments to Australian accounting Disclosures' . These requirements clarify the definition of a related party and include an implicit requirement to disclose commitments involving related parties.	1 January 2011	30 June 2011

2. Significant accounting policies

a) Statement of compliance

The financial report is a general-purpose financial report, which has been prepared in accordance with the Corporations Act 2001, Accounting Standards and Interpretations, and complies with other requirements of the law. Accounting Standards include Australian equivalents to International Financial Reporting Standards ('A-IFRS'). Compliance with the A-IFRS ensures that the financial statements and notes of the Company comply with International Financial Reporting Standards ('IFRS').

The following is a summary of the material accounting policies adopted by the company in the preparation of the financial report. The accounting policies have been consistently applied, unless otherwise stated.

b) Basis of preparation

The financial report has been prepared on the basis of historical cost, except for the revaluation of certain non-current assets and financial instruments. Cost is based on the fair values of the consideration given in exchange for assets. Unless otherwise indicated, all amounts are in Australian dollars.

c) Critical accounting judgements and key sources of estimation uncertainty.

Management is required to make judgements, estimates and assumptions about the carrying value of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and various other factors that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstance, the results of which form the basis of making the judgements. Actual results may differ from these estimates. The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an on-going basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period or in the period of the revision and future periods if the revision affects both current and future periods.

Accounting policies are selected and applied in a manner, which ensures that the resulting financial information satisfies the concepts of relevance and reliability, thereby ensuring that the substance of the underlying transactions or the events is reported.

The following significant accounting policies have been adopted in the preparation and presentation of the financial report:

d) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash comprises cash on hand and demand deposits. Cash equivalents are short-term, highly liquid investments that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to insignificant risk of changes in value.

Bank overdrafts are shown within borrowings in current liabilities in the balance sheet.

e) Employee benefits

A liability is recognised for benefits accruing to employees in respect of wages and salaries, annual leave and long service leave when it is probable that settlement will be required and they are capable of being measured reliably.

Liabilities are recognised in respect of employee benefits, which are expected to be settled within 12 months.

CREDIT UNION FINANCIAL SUPPORT SYSTEM
NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

f) Receivables

Trade and other receivables are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method less impairment.

h) Impairment of financial assets

At each reporting date, the Company reviews the carrying amounts of its assets to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have suffered an impairment loss. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss (if any). Where the asset does not generate cash flows that are independent from other assets, the Company estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs. Where a reasonable and consistent basis of allocation can be identified, corporate assets are also allocated to individual cash-generating units, or otherwise they are allocated to the smallest group of cash-generating units for which a reasonable and consistent allocation basis can be identified.

i) Income tax

The income tax expense for the period is the tax payable on the current period's taxable income based on the company income tax rate, adjusted for changes in deferred tax assets and liabilities and unused tax losses.

Deferred tax assets are recognised when temporary differences arise between the tax base of assets and liabilities and their respective carrying amounts, which give rise to a future tax benefit, or where a benefit arises due to unused tax losses, but are only recognised in both cases to the extent that it is probable that future taxable amounts will be available to utilise those temporary differences or tax losses.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognised when such temporary differences will give rise to taxable amounts being payable in future periods. Deferred Income Tax assets and liabilities are recognised at the tax rates expected to apply when the assets are recovered or the liabilities are settled.

j) Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, for which it is probable that the Company will be required to settle the obligation, and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

The amount recognised as a provision is the net estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the reporting date, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation. Where the provision is measured using the cash flows estimated to settle the present obligation, its carrying amount is the present value of those cash flows. When some, or all, of the economic benefits required to settle a provision are expected to be recovered from a third party, the receivable is recognised as an asset if it is virtually certain that reimbursement will be received and the amount of the receivable can be measured reliably.

CREDIT UNION FINANCIAL SUPPORT SYSTEM
NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

k) Goods and services tax

Revenues, expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of goods and services tax (GST), except:

- i. Where the amount of GST incurred is not recoverable from the taxation authority, it is recognised as part of the cost of acquisition of an asset or as part of an item of expense; or
- ii. For receivables and payables which are recognised inclusive of GST.

The net amount of GST recoverable from, or payable to, the taxation authority is included as part of receivables or payables.

Cash flows are included in the cash flow statement on a gross basis. The GST component of cash flows arising from investing and financing activities which is recoverable from, or payable to, the taxation authority is classified as operating cash flows.

l) Revenue

Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable. Revenue is reduced for estimated rebates and other similar allowances.

Interest revenue is accrued on a time basis, by reference to the principal outstanding and at the effective interest rate applicable, which is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial asset.

Market risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. Market risk comprises three types of risk: foreign exchange (currency risk), market interest rates (interest rate risk) and market prices (price risk). The cash balance is exposed to movements in interest rates.

A sensitivity of a 0.5% increase or decrease in interest rates on average balances has been used as this represents management's assessment of the possible change in interest rates. A positive number indicates an increase in profit or loss while a negative number indicates an equal and opposite impact on profit or loss.

Sensitivity impact	Decrease 0.5%		Increase 0.5%
	2010	2009	2010	2009
Profit or loss	(1,054)	(1,110)	1,054	1,110

Credit risk

Cuscal Limited is an approved deposit taking institution regulated by APRA and has an AA- (long term) and A1+ (short term) rating from Standard and Poor's. Accordingly the Company believes the deposit/overdraft account is subject to minimal credit risk.

Interest rate risk

As the deposit/overdraft account bears floating interest rates, the Company is exposed to interest rate risk, should short-term rates vary. As the Company is cash positive, this exposure may cause interest revenue to vary.

Liquidity risk management

The Company manages liquidity risk by maintaining a substantial cash balance, which includes effectively holding all its equity in cash.

Fair values of financial assets and liabilities

The carrying amount of financial assets and financial liabilities recorded in the financial statements represents their respective fair values, determined in accordance with the accounting policies in Note 2.
